

World Book Day

7th March 2019

To celebrate World Book Day on Thursday 7th March all children who will be attending nursery that week can either bring along their favourite book, a toy/teddy from a book and/or a dress up costume. There will be a £1 charge for this with proceeds going to Book Aid International, a charity which sends around one million books every year to communities which have few or no books to read, including hundreds of schools where children are struggling to learn as they share one text book between as many as ten students. Every £2 the nursery raises will send a book to where it is really needed and provide an opportunity for communities to learn and flourish.

Story Reading Stars

Story Reading Stars is an official game for World Book Day that has been created to encourage reading at home and all the ways you can share stories. Children will be bringing a copy of the game home over the next week to allow families time to play the game. Staff would appreciate it if the game could be returned before World Book Day on Thursday 7th March as children will be receiving a certificate that week for their participation. Please feel free to ask staff if you require extra copies for siblings.

We're going on a Bear Hunt

The nursery has chosen 'We're going on a Bear Hunt' as our focus for World Book Day. Children will be listening to the story in a variety of formats and participating in various experiences related to the story. If we're brave enough we might even go on a bear hunt to see if we can find our own bear.

Book Token

Each child will receive a £1 token which can be redeemed for a free £1 book or £1 off any book or audiobook worth £2.99 or more at all participating bookshops and supermarkets until 31st March 2019.

Amazing Audiobooks

Sharing books doesn't always mean reading them, they're great fun to listen to as well. A range of free audiobooks are available to listen to from 28th
